October 2017

Rest in Peace, Ingrid Zundel

We were distressed this month to hear of the death of Ernst Zundel's widow, Ingrid Rimland Zundel, less than three months after her husband's passing. Chairman Williams had just visited Mrs. Zundel in September, as reported in last month's BULLETIN.

Kevin Alfred Strom reported on our online magazine, National Vanguard:

Sometimes life comes at you fast. I was very saddened to get the news of this sudden loss. I had just a few days ago received a letter from Ingrid Zundel. She and her husband Ernst will always be remembered and honored in the new culture and new world we're going to build.

Both Ingrid and Ernst were giants in the field of historical revisionism (that is, bringing history into accord with the facts, and exposing the false narratives of organized Jewry and other self-interested liars).

Another great revisionist pioneer, Fred Leuchter, also commented on National Vanguard:

Goodbye, Ingrid. Gottterdammerung is approaching. Both you and Ernst have been called to join all the other great Germanic heroes in Valhalla in preparation for the final battle.

One of Ingrid's great accomplishments was the completion of a large revisionist library and research center, including a residence for visiting scholars, near her home and art gallery in the Tennessee countryside. May she and her husband take their rightful places together in the pantheon of our people, and may their important work be carried on by a new generation.

Cosmotheist Church Web Site

Forty years after its founding, the Cosmotheist Community Church recently launched its first dedicated Web site, which will focus on explaining and promoting Cosmotheism, the Nature-based religion for Aryans, grounded in reality and science, bequeathed to us by William Pierce. The URL is: <https://cosmotheistchurch.org>.

The site features a new video production entitled Cosmotheism: the Meaning of Life, an adaptation of William Pierce's ground-breaking 1976 speech, Our Cause. Also presented in audiovisual form, along with the original text, are the early Cosmotheist booklets, The Path, On Living Things, and On Society, which present the central tenets of the Cosmotheist view of the world.

As our intentional Cosmotheist Community in West Virginia grows and prospers, updates on its progress will be shared on this new site.

There is renewed interest in Dr. Pierce's teachings, in which a Cosmotheist thread is consistently interwoven with his political ideas. As Dr. Pierce explained:

We need ethics; we need values and standards; we need a world view. And if one wants to call all of these things together a religion, then we need a religion. One might choose instead, however, to call them a philosophy of life. Whatever we call it, it must come from our own race-soul: It must be an expression of the innate Aryan nature. And it must be conducive to our mission of racial progress.

Dr. Pierce's legacy to his race is not to be found only in his creation of the National Alliance. His most enduring gift to us may well prove to be his establishment of a sound and suitable belief system for our people.

Online Donations Simplified

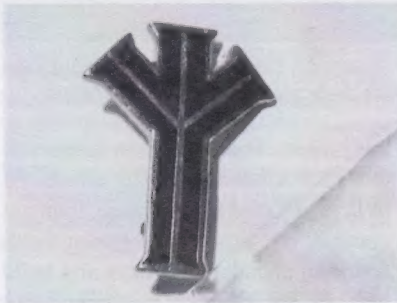

After having our Internet financial services revoked without cause in August by Jews and their collaborators, in the September BULLETIN we introduced Alliance members and supporters to our new Internet crowdfunding provider Hatreon — with rather involved instructions for setting up a user account. Hatreon is a platform that allows donations to be made electronically through the Internet. Hatreon was founded by Cody Wilson. In an incident similar to ours, Mr. Wilson was banned from the mainstream crowdfunding platform Patreon for alleged "hate speech."

Hatreon has now greatly simplified its sign-up procedure. It takes only a few minutes to get an account. Visit hatreon.net and click on "Sign Up." Once a subscriber has his account, he can donate to the National Alliance by searching for and locating "National Alliance" on the Hatreon Web site and clicking "Make a Pledge." Members and supporters who were previously making donations or paying their monthly pledges electronically through Stripe, prior to our having our Stripe services revoked, are encouraged now to use Hatreon as the convenient, secure method for transferring funds electronically.

Membership Pins and Cards

When people join the National Alliance as members they are making a commitment to be activists in Alliance-building — to creatively spread the Alliance's message of hope, and recruit new members to our organization. Others join with us as supporters only, pledging the same minimum amount per month, entitled to receive this monthly BULLETIN, just as our members do.

Some time during November, the National Office will mail both a new Life Rune lapel pin and a new membership card to all members in good standing. So, those members who are behind in their dues, please catch up; and those supporters who wish to upgrade to member status, simply notify us when you return your October Dues Statement and we will assign you a member number and mail you a pin and card also. The design of the new membership cards is based on Dr. Pierce's original design, and the Life Rune pins are identical to those issued during Dr. Pierce's lifetime — even down to being made by the same manufacturer. The pins have been out of stock since well before current leadership took over, but Chairman Williams managed to track down the same company that manufactured those pins for Dr. Pierce 40 years ago and the first shipment has arrived.

Report From the Mountain

Representing the National Alliance, West Virginia Office Manager Jay Hess and another key Alliance supporter took a long road trip this month to attend a well-coordinated, invitation-only gathering of fellow "thought criminals," somewhere near the Mississippi River. Old friendships were renewed and important new contacts established. A few packets were prepared for select attendees, which included the Building a New White World booklet, a sample flier, a recent BULLETIN, and one of our popular, handsome business cards (of which the National Office just ordered another big batch). Our impressive material was well received. One leader was sufficiently impressed with Jay's description of the Cosmotheist Community that he offered to send a crew of young men to our West Virginia community to work as volunteers as we improve our facilities there. Building bridges!

October came and went quickly as we prepared for winter. Our local volunteers gathered to repair nagging structural roof damage on our main office building caused by a ill-designed, heavy flag pole installed to hold the embarrassing "Navajo blanket" flag designed during the Gliebe/Walker regime. While on the roof, our men cleaned the gutters and cleared blockages in downspouts. (Two years ago, it was Chairman Williams who personally removed five inches of rich compost from the rain gutters that had not been maintained for at least ten years.) Trees that hung over the roof have been trimmed back by our volunteer arborist to make regular roof maintenance easier.

As we rebuild our infrastructure and train ourselves to self-sustain on this remote mountain campus, we are constantly reminded of the long-term nature of our project. That long view is essential to all our Alliance-building efforts. For us here, it's road maintenance, food production, reclaiming overgrown fields, restoring abandoned offices and buildings, etc. For members and supporters in the field it's printing and distributing Alliance fliers and other material, building and maintaining personal relationships with other members in their respective regions. At NAHQ in Tennessee it is administration of finances, coordinating membership, coordinating with our Media Director; building our publishing arm, and organizing and planning the expanding William L. Pierce Memorial Library. Whether we are in the field, on The Land, or at HQ with our Chairman and his staff, we are all working towards the One Purpose — together, as a team.

Hate Mail, or Fear Mail?

The “Hate Mail” we featured in last month’s BULLETIN was popular with our members. That type of mail slowed back down to a trickle again this month, but we still receive a few, like the email below from someone calling herself Breanna on 21 October.

National Alliance: I live in Davenport [Iowa] and a few days ago you placed a flier on the windshield of my car. I was out of town at the time and my house sitter saw this disrespectful flier on my windshield. Don’t leave papers on my car. Honestly, I don’t want you touching my vehicles, I don’t think it was appropriate to leave that kind of flier on peoples’ cars. In Davenport we have a lot of crime, lots of shootings and stabbings for no reason at all and you leaving that kind of flier on cars is dangerous around here. All it takes is for the wrong person to see that flier, that person may not even care who left it on there but they see me getting into that car and now I’m a target because I had a racist flier on my windshield. That’s all it takes around Davenport. I’m a 26-year-old white tiny woman, I’m not looking to get hurt because of a poor flier you left. Seriously just leave us alone before we get hurt. — Breanna, Iowa

Unfortunately, Breanna didn’t tell us her address, so we can’t “pass over” her house or car when distributing, say, a “They Hate Us” flier next time we are in her neighborhood. People like Breanna need to understand that we can and must build a world in which there will be no anti-White shooters and stabbers like the ones she says are on her street. We need more fliers, more activism, more boldness and determination to build that world — not less. Cowering in fear is not the answer.

Correspondence

Dear National Alliance: Enclosed are a few bucks to help keep up the fight. Also, please send a few of the “They Hate Us” fliers. I’m 87 now, but I still attempt to enlighten a few people. The ignorance of the public to what is happening to them is the toughest problem. They are brainwashed! Keep up the good work. — B.M., Mississippi

Dear Chairman Williams: Every day I’ve pledged to do at least one activity for our cause. During September, 807 pieces of Alliance material were distributed by me, with approximately 25 percent of them being our cards or the “Love Your Race” fliers, and the rest the “Missing” or “They Hate Us” fliers. Five advertisements were placed on Craigslist for National Alliance Books during September. As per the pledge I made back in August on the White Biocentrism forum for that month and for September, I’m extending that commitment to do something for the National Alliance every day during October and November as well — and hope other members will follow my example. In addition, I’ll be attending all upcoming gun shows in the area, renting tables, displaying Alliance books and other material, and raising racial consciousness face-to-face with gun enthusiasts. Donation enclosed to use as you see fit. Best regards to you and the National Office staff. — J.M., Iowa

Chairman Williams responds: You do set a fine example with your personal activist pledge, J.M.! Your dedication is appreciated more than you know. The National Office just received an inquiry about Alliance membership from a fellow in your neighborhood who found one of our cards. He was mailed a copy of our Building A New White World booklet the following day.

The Charlottesville set-up in mid-August, described by S.R. below, is old news now, but his critique of a radio show he'd heard last month is worth sharing. The Jew-controlled mass media were still beating the "Nazi murderer" drum at the time. More and more White Americans, and not just race-denying Trumpsters, are waking up to what S.R. describes here. They need further radicalizing. Keep up the good work, J.M.

Dear Chairman Williams: It is getting interesting! The global elites are getting nervous. On a recent Richmond, Virginia radio program, crooked Democrat Governor McAuliffe, State Safety Director Moran, also a Democrat, and failed Republican presidential candidate Carly Fiorina were all interviewed individually, independent from one another. What a gross bunch of System whores! Any perceptive person who was listening should have been able to tell, as I did, that all three had been coached in the same talking points (about the "evil White racists, neo-Nazis and White supremacists," etc., who "murdered a woman in Charlottesville"). There was not one mention of the antifa [anti-fascists], Black Lives Matter, the Communist Revolutionary Party, etc. The Friday night torchlight ceremony by the White activists made a powerful impression for those who saw it in person or online. The White traitor scum who collaborate against their own race are also deadly enemies. One is either with his race or with the enemy! — S.R., Virginia

Hello! I am glad to be here. I have much reading and learning to do. I lurked before joining. I think initially I will have more questions than contributions. Oh man, though, the intellectual caliber of this site is second to none. I have enjoyed reading, and when I am confident enough to post, I will enjoy that even more. — P.I., Australia (after joining our White Biocentrism forum)

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Endurance, Discipline, and the Internet

The volunteer who set up the Alliance's "National Vanguard Alliance" (NVA) YouTube channel less than two years ago and has maintained it ever since, with nearly 500 videos added and nearly 3,700 subscribers, reports that the channel has been under constant attack lately. He tells me that any Jew can complain to YouTube that he is offended by the content of a video. If the Jews running YouTube agree with their sayanim complainants (which most of the time they do) they then issue a "strike" against the channel. They also delete the video in question. Luckily, strikes can expire after three months. But if you get three strikes within three months, then your entire channel can be permanently deleted by YouTube's censors. Our volunteer archivist writes in late October:

Our channel received its third strike so we're "out"! There is an appeal process, but instead of jumping through YouTube's hoops again we have decided to change to a different service: VidMe. VidMe claims that their service upholds free speech. I guess we will see. I haven't heard any stories yet about White loyalists getting their channels destroyed there due to 'hate speech' violations. Vidme is nowhere near as popular as YouTube. Perhaps in time Vidme will grow in popularity and Web traffic hits. It will probably take me a year to upload all the videos there, but we salvaged all content and I have eight American Dissident Voices videos uploaded there already, beginning with our first one back on 28 December 2013.

Here is the link to the our new NVA VidMe channel: https://vid.me/National_Vanguard_Alliance. Members and supporters are encouraged to subscribe to the channel and to spread the link to others. Our NVA volunteer prefers to remain anonymous as he perseveres in this yeomanly job, as he has been harassed before because of his work for us. He knows how much we appreciate his selfless volunteer work. He has spread the Alliance's message to countless Whites. He has that enduring quality Dr. Pierce valued so much: He doesn't quit when obstacles are thrown in his path and things get tough.

Making the Best Use of the Internet

I had mentioned to a newly-awakened and Internet-savvy visitor to our whitebiocentrism.com forum who is active in online social media that, "We must develop our own, state-of-the-art, Internet-based television network and our own, secure social media. We must constantly adapt and expand our bypassing of the anti-White mass media to reach and arouse other Whites, then organize them for what is coming while we still can."

I had made it clear to this man that I do not participate in social media myself, but that I am not opposed to the National Alliance using such electronic networking phenomena effectively for the purpose of Alliance-building. Whitebiocentrism.com is a small, casual forum — launched four years ago by Kevin Strom and myself — where a number of Alliance members check in every day or so for a little much-needed fellowship, and for the mentoring of curious visitors who are looking for an understanding of what the National Alliance is all about from experienced Alliance members who actually knew and worked with Dr. Pierce.

Being of a pre-Internet generation, I didn't understand some of the terms he had used, including "Three Percenters." So I asked him what that meant. He replied:

Being a "Three Percenter" is the latest craze in the reactionary militia world and is quite popular. [Three Percenters, who style themselves as non-racial "constitutionalists," named themselves after the roughly three percent of the colonies' population who fought the British in the American revolution.] However, they are mostly overgrown children and impossible to truly organize — I've tried and given up. It's pointless.

I'm in total agreement with you about creating social media for us Whites but I can't see how anyone could do outreach or recruiting presently without using the alien-owned existing media due to the simple reason that most of the world is on them.

The fact that the Jews are trying to censor Facebook so vigorously tells us that people are being reached there and are waking up. For example, last Friday I was able to bend a conversation on a Facebook group about the "New World Order" into a discussion of the Jews' great "Holocaust" hoax and its true history. Throughout that topic thread, I was able to use at least half a dozen links to nationalvanguard.org, and links to David Irving's site and other sources to answer questions and prove my point. White nationalist-minded people poured out of the woodwork. I also gained a dozen or so new race-minded "friends" after that. Granted, the administrators of the group freaked out and deleted the thread the next day — but they have over 100,000 followers and I'm sure many others were at least exposed to the truth in the one day the discussion was up.

I have multiple social media accounts for different purposes: Some get suspended for political reasons but I switch to one of my "back-ups" and keep going. Some accounts are even for intelligence purposes — keeping an eye on anti-White censorship and other activity.

Even if we were able to start our own social media tomorrow how would others even know that they existed without spreading the word on existing social media?

These venues can be leveraged to our advantage if used properly and vigorously. If not you, Will, other members or associates can do it — W.F., via whitebiocentrism.com

“Properly” is the operative word for how the National Alliance will use social media while they are still in the hands of racial aliens and their collaborators, and later, when in our hands.

More than 20 years ago, soon after our first Web site, natall.com, was launched in 1995, and after enough Alliance members had purchased modems, connecting to one another and to our National Office, the Alliance quietly launched its ground-breaking “Cyber Cell” group of five coordinated cells of at least five members in each cell, each having a leader who coordinated activities through emails and phone calls with the other four cell leaders and the National Office. Since the Alliance’s message is for decent White people still capable of independent thought, not for racial aliens or committed anti-Whites, we would deliberately target those early Usenet discussion groups where we were likely to encounter Whites who shared at least some of the same interests and concerns that all of us Alliance members held in common. A cell member would join an active Usenet group, lurk there for a while to evaluate the players, then casually join in, link to some National Alliance material, draw out the usual suspects; then bring in the other members of his cell and raise the temperature of the discussion, posting more Alliance material when appropriate. As things heated up, we would bring in another cell of disciplined Alliance members, then another, then another, until we absolutely dominated the discussion, which greatly encouraged — and sometimes recruited — the Whites who had previously felt alone and isolated. We were organized; our opposition were not. Then, after sufficiently asserting our pro-White positions, most of the cells would depart for a new target group, leaving one cell for a while to “mop up.”

The leader of the Special Forces Underground (SFU) around Ft. Bragg, NC, at the time told me later that his clandestine group of former (and some active) Green Berets had been observing our Cyber Cell activity online and that their consensus was we were “writing the text book for how to take cyber territory,” hold it, then move on to take more with military-like discipline and coordination. (Remember, this was done in a day when everything on the Internet was text-driven; no images, no audio, and certainly no streaming video — but we knew all of that was coming eventually.)

We have the capacity to organize our efforts on social media in an effective, disciplined, carefully-planned manner again. It will require attracting more young ‘Net-savvy, ideologically sound White loyalists who agree with the values and program of our organization, then guiding and coordinating them to use the social media landscape for our one purpose: Alliance-building.

Gaining mostly anonymous “friends” in cyberspace on the existing anti-White platforms cannot be compared to recruiting real-world, seriously committed, dues-paying members and supporters into our real-world Alliance. W. W. W.
